Any failure to submit the document involves the automatic forfeiture of the right to enter into the contract.

If citizens of non-European Union countries residing in their country of origin at the time of participation in the selection process are selected, they must necessarily submit the entry visa to the Visiting Professor Welcome Office. The visa is the result of the prefecture issuing the authorisation by the presumed activity start date. Failure to submit the document will make it impossible to start the activity.

The Administration reserves the right to carry out random checks on the attachments to the application form, and statement truthfulness.

Referenced to documents already submitted for other selection procedures at this Politecnico are forbidden.

Art. 4 - Publications

Only publications or texts accepted for publication under current regulations may be evaluated, and essays included in collective works and articles published in hard copy or digital magazines with the exclusion of internal notes or departmental reports. The doctoral thesis or equivalent qualifications are taken into consideration even without the above conditions.

The administration reserves the right to check the statements on submitted publications.

Art. 5 - Selection Committee

The Selection Committee is composed of three full and associate professors, or equivalent foreign status, under Ministerial Decree of 01/09/2016, no. 662, of the Academic Recruitment Field covered by the notice, appointed by the relevant Department Board. The Committee is composed of a majority of full and associate professors, or equivalent if from other national or international universities.

The appointment is made by Rectoral decree and published in the official register and the University's website.

The Committee must complete its work within four months from the appointment decree issue. An extension of three months may be granted by the Rector on the President's reasoned request.

Applicants may lodge an objection to any Committee members if the conditions in art. 51 of the Code of Civil Procedure are met. Objections must be lodged with the Rector within 30 days of the publication in the Official Register and the University's website of the decree appointing the committee. After this deadline, and the commission has taken office, no objection may be made. If the circumstance of the objection is prior to the date of the Committee taking office, the deadline starts from its onset. The objection's rejection cannot be a reason for a subsequent recusal.

Art. 6 - Selection methods

The selection is made by evaluating the applicants with a reasoned analytical judgement on their qualifications, curriculum vitae and scientific production, including the doctoral thesis, according to national and international criteria and parameters, identified by Ministerial Decree 25/5/2011, no. 243.

The Committee may use telematic tools for collective work and may carry out remote sessions.

The public discussion of qualifications and scientific production and the foreign language assessment can be carried out by teleconference meeting.

The Selection Committee at its first meeting establishes the criteria and parameters by which the preliminary and subsequent evaluation of qualifications and scientific production is carried out.

During the same meeting, the Committee determines the maximum and minimum score, below which the applicant is ineligible.

The evaluation criteria and parameters are made public at least seven days before the preliminary qualifications and scientific production evaluation and are published on the University website.

Following the preliminary evaluation, the most comparatively deserving applicants - between 10 and 20 per cent and not less than six, shall be admitted to the public discussion of qualifications and scientific production with the Committee.

All applicants are admitted to the discussion if the number is equal to or less than six.

The Committee discusses the qualifications and scientific production with the applicants. This applicant may choose to hold the discussion in Italian or English. This is not subject to evaluation but awards scores on qualifications and scientific production.

During the discussion of qualifications and scientific production, the Committee will carry out an oral test to verify the applicants' knowledge of the ENGLISH language.

After the discussion, a score will be awarded to qualifications and each of the publications submitted by the applicants.

Based on the criteria and parameters established in the preliminary meeting, the Committee will draw up a merit ranking taking into account the scores achieved in the evaluation of qualifications and scientific production of each applicant.

If there is an equal score, preference will be given to the younger applicant.

The date, time and method of conducting the public discussion of qualifications and scientific production and the foreign language assessment are published on the University website and notified to each candidate, with at least 20 days' notice, through the e-mail or Italian certified e-mail address (PEC), elected as exclusive address for the purposes of the procedure, as indicated in the application form.

Candidates admitted to the public discussion, if the latter will be carried out by teleconference meeting, will receive an invitation containing the access link through their e-mail address, prior to the discussion. The link will also be published on the University website, in order to guarantee due publicity.

The admitted candidates must guarantee that the workstation from which they undertake the discussion is equipped with a webcam, indispensable for the recognition of the candidate, as well as with a microphone and headphones / audio speakers.

At the beginning of the online interview, candidates must present a valid identity document to the Selection Committee, preferably corresponding to the one attached to the application. The Administration assumes no responsibility for the dispersion of communications, caused by any incorrect indication of the delivery address by the candidate or failure of/late communication of any change of address indicated in the application, nor for any postal or telegraphic mistake or any mistake attributable to third parties, either caused by chance or force majeure.

The event of a candidate failure to attend the public discussion, on the date and time set and with the method established in the communication, even if due to force majeure, will be considered as a waiver of participation in the selection.

After procedure completion, the Committee will deliver the selection documents to the procedure Manager, consisting of the minutes of individual meetings and a final report.

Art. 7 - Documentation compliance verification.

Within 60 days from the delivery of the documentation drawn up by the Committee, the Director General shall verify documentation formal compliance with a decree.

If formal defects are found, the Director General will send the documentation back to the Commission for changes showing the reasons and setting the deadline.

The decree approving the documentation and final report are published on the University's website and sent to the relevant institute that requested the call.

Publication on the website is the equivalent of a legal notice to applicants.

The deadlines for lodging any appeals begin from the decree's publication date.

The relevant Department Board shall formulate the proposal for the call of the applicant who is first in the ranking with an absolute majority of full and associate professors' favourable votes or decides not to call, giving appropriate reasons for the decision.

Art. 8 - Documents - contract stipulation

The selection winner is invited to sign the individual employment contract, and submit the documentation required under current legislation for the establishment of a fixed-term employment relationship. This is done within 30 days from the Board of Governors call proposal resolution.

The contract must be signed within 30 days of receipt of the communication.

The contract covers:

- the employment relationship start and end date;
- the services required;

- the remuneration.

The probationary period is three months and the Head of the Department is responsible for the evaluation. The probationary period is suspended if there is an absence due to illness. In this case the employee has the right to keep the position for a maximum of six months, after which the relationship is terminated.

After the probationary period without the employment relationship having been terminated by the parties, the contract holder is confirmed and granted seniority from the day of recruitment.

If the contract is terminated, remuneration is paid until the last day of service.

Under current legislation, non-EU citizens may use substitute declarations, limited to cases where there is a need to prove status, facts and personal qualities which can be certified or attested by Italian public or private entities.

Art. 9 - Contract duration

The contract has a three-year duration and may be extended only once for two years, after a positive evaluation of the research and teaching activities carried out, based on methods, criteria and parameters defined by Ministerial Decree 24/05/2011, no. 242.

Art. 10 - Tasks, employment relationship method and hourly commitment

Research Programme: Finance for sustainable development: framing the approaches to define criteria for measuring performance and impacts

Finance for sustainable development is defining different approaches for contributing to social and environmental problems. While the regulatory mechanisms are increasingly directing the actors to adopt precise practices towards sustainability, the managerial and organizational literature lacks theoretical and applicative frameworks to interpret the phenomenon. In particular, precise combinations are lacking to help the impact measurements align with strategies. In this context, the research program envisages: i) the development of a framework for the phenomenon within management and organizational theories; ii) analyze existing databases that allow empirically explaining the phenomenon within a new theoretical framework; iii) prepare the managerial applications to guide the impact measurement methodologies.

The annual commitment for teaching, supplementary teaching and student services is 350 hours.

The contract holder is required to carry out teaching according to the methods defined during teaching planning by the Department requesting the contract, under Regulations for the teaching commitment of Politecnico di Milano professors and researchers under art. 6 of Law 30/12/2010 no. 240.

Art. 11 - Employment termination

Employment termination is when the term expires or the parties withdraw and any other reason under current legislation.

During the first three months the contracting parties may terminate the contract, without notice or compensation in lieu of notice. Withdrawal shall be effective from the moment the other party has been informed.

After this period and until the expiry of the term, contract withdrawal may take place if, under art. 2119 of the Civil Code, there is a reason which makes the relationship continuation impossible. If there is a withdrawal, the contract holder is required to give at least 30 days' notice. The notice period begins on the first or 16th day of each month. If there is a failure to send the notice, the administration can retain an amount equal to the remuneration for the unworked notice period.

Art. 12 - Incompatibility and further assignments

The contract referred to in this call notice is incompatible with:

- any other employment relationship, including part-time or fixed-term employment, with public and private entities;
- entitlement to research grants at other Universities;
- doctoral and post-doctoral scholarships and scholarships or grants awarded by third parties, other than scholarships which support travel to other national or international institutes for joint research activities.

The contract holder is allowed to carry out further teaching assignments, in addition to those in art. 10 with the methods under University General Regulations.

The provisions contained in the Regulations governing assignments outside the University for professors and researchers apply to contract holders.

The contract referred to in this call notice does not give rise to any rights to access university positions.

The performance of the contract referred to in this call notice is an advantage in selection procedures for public administrations.

Art. 13 - Remuneration, tax, social security and insurance conditions

The contract holder remuneration is equal to the initial remuneration of the "Ricercatore a Tempo Indeterminato" (Researcher on an Italian permanent contract) for FULL TIME.

Gross annual remuneration is not subject to indexing or revaluation.

The employment relationship established between Politecnico di Milano and the contract holder is governed by relevant regulations, including tax, social security and pension conditions for employee income.

The University provides insurance coverage for accident and civil liability risks.

The contract holder is entitled to what is under Legislative Decree no. 26/03/2001, no. 151 on the protection and support of maternity and paternity, by Law no. 05/02/1992, no. 104 for the assistance, social integration and rights of persons with disabilities, articles 37, 40 and 68 of Presidential Decree 10/01/1957, no. 3 and subsequent amendments, on extraordinary and sick leave. Sick leave cannot be extended for more than 12 months.

Art. 14 - Intellectual property

The possible implementation of an innovation, which may be patented by the contract holder in the performance of their duties, is subject to current and University General Regulations and any relevant contractual clauses.

Art. 15 - Personal data processing

Under EU Regulation no. 679/2016, applicants are informed that the processing of their personal data will take place, on paper or electronically, for the sole purposes of this procedure and establishment and management of any employment relationship.

The processing will be carried out by the persons in charge of the procedure, the selection committee, using electronic means, in the ways and within the limits necessary to pursue the above purposes, including any communication to third parties.

The provision of data is necessary for the assessment and verification of the participation requirements and possession of the declared qualifications. Any failure to provide data may prevent those fulfilments and, in the cases provided by the call, may result in the exclusion from the selection procedure.

Additional data may be requested from applicants for the purposes indicated above.
