PROJECT

PROXIMO reflects on the difficulties that service providers face in engaging NEETs, young people who are not in education, employment or training. The project intends to support associations and institutions by designing effective strategies to overcome the obstacles to engagement. The process is divided into various phases, which include the study of existing initiatives and good practices, the activation of a Youth Advisory Group, the accompaniment of partners in the co-design and testing of engagement methodologies and the development of protocols that support the development of integrated services aimed at young people.
