

POLITECNICO
MILANO 1863

Dear Students, Dear Colleagues,
tonight we will not provide operating instructions on classrooms management or information on security procedures.

Tonight I would like to thank all those who have worked hard to enable the start of the semester tomorrow.

Let me thank the Professors who have studied new technologies and will start the lessons tomorrow.

Let me thank you, students, who decided to be close to Politecnico.
Thank you all. Tomorrow we will be excited and a little fearful. But we will all be together.

Best regards

Ferruccio Resta
Rector of Politecnico di Milano
